SMS GENDER POLICY
BACKGROUND AND RATIONALE

The Constitution of India guarantees EQUALITY to both women and men. This however remains as ‘de jure’ equality which requires to be translated into ‘substantive’ equality through affirmative action. It is recognized that inequalities in gender relations is the norm. The caste-class-patriarchal nature of society privileges men over women, leading to exploitation and oppression of women. Women are also victimized through violence. Shramajivi Mahila Samity (SMS) is making a conscious effort to address gender inequality within the General Body or Governing body members, Staffs, volunteers or member of any committee of SMS or its network partners, who has a direct or indirect, engage with the organization will be considered an interested person for the purposes of this Policy.

SMS clearly articulates it both in its vision and mission statements the importance of Gender Equality and the focus on Gender Mainstreaming. It recognizes Gender as a cross cutting issue that is integral to the different areas of SMS’ thrust such as women rights, rights of ST/SC, rights of minorities, rights of children, the physically challenged, the aged, and their livelihood along with their participation in governance.

To SMS, Gender Equality is integral to its commitment to Rights and hence is seen as an important aspect of the Rights based approach in the context of an all-pervasive systemic gender discrimination and gender inequality. Gender based discrimination is the most widespread form of systemic discrimination, and gender inequalities pervade all families, societies and organisations. Commitment to rights and gender equality are cross-cutting objectives, filters through all programmes.

It is clearly established in human rights norms that women and men are entitled, on an equal and equitable basis, to the enjoyment of human rights and fundamental freedoms in the political, economic, social, cultural, civil or any other field. Women’s rights are human rights and not special privileges. SMS underscores this, and therefore aims at promoting these rights in the organisation and through its partners working amongst the poor, marginalized women and men through means that address and remove the barriers to women’s and men’s full enjoyment of their rights.

SMS recognizes that gender relations and inequalities are due to unequal power relations which are major causes of poverty and gender discrimination. It further recognizes that women are not a homogenous group and therefore the discrimination and oppression meted out to them differs based on their social classification in terms of caste, class and religion. Women and girls do not enjoy the same status, power or access to and control over resources as men and boys. This is a violation of their rights. To realize SMS’ vision for Gender Justice, it must work to ensure that everyone has equal opportunity to express, use their potential, irrespective of sex, age, caste, class, religion, HIV status or disability.

SMS’ work at various levels has provided ample experience to introduce the gender perspective in its work. This experience has led SMS to acknowledge that women’s empowerment and recognition of women’s rights are critical for sustainable development. SMS’s efforts and commitment is to provide the space and opportunity to channelize the energy, effort and resources into processes to create resilient communities that values women, men, girls and boys equally. While SMS highlights the need for women to have their space and time, it underlines the need to engage and involve men and boys in their efforts to improve the status of women and girls.

The aspiration for SMS to be recognized as an organization that values gender as a core component of all its work begins with the staff, in programmes, with partners and beyond. Therefore, to facilitate and translate SMS’ core values of Gender Equality and Gender Justice, acknowledging that these have to be seen and addressed differently among the socially excluded groups, a policy frame with action is developed for this.
